Information for Contributors

Editorial Policy: Papers will be considered for publication on condition that they are submitted solely to the American Journal of Human Genetics. Each contribution will be read by two or more referees before notice is given of the paper's acceptance. Authors may suggest referees. Membership in the American Society of Human Genetics is not a prerequisite for publication in the Journal. Papers will be judged on the basis of their content of original data or interpretation, and no limit is set on the number of printed pages which a paper may contain. Some guidelines regarding publication policies are given in an editorial, Am J Hum Genet 22:109-110, 1970. Brief communications (up to 12 double-spaced typewritten pages) may be submitted under the rapid publication policy. To be considered, the paper must be substantive and central to topics of human genetics.

Review Articles of approximately 3,000 words or less on timely subjects concerning all aspects of human genetics will be considered for publication after submission to two reviewers. Contact the Editor with any questions.

MANUSCRIPTS SHOULD BE TYPEWRITTEN DOUBLESPPACED THROUGHOUT, INCLUDING REFERENCES, TABLES AND FOOTNOTES. TABLES, SUMMARY, FOOTNOTES, AND LEGENDS FOR FIGURES SHOULD BE TYPED ON SHEETS SEPARATE FROM THE TEXT, AND A SEPARATE TITLE PAGE SHOULD BE PROVIDED. In addition to the original typewritten copy, a duplicate copy complete with figures, tables, and references is also required.

Illustrations: Tables and illustrations should be planned to fit the Journal's type-page ($4\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ inches). Exceptionally large tables and pedigree diagrams should be constructed in sections wherever possible, to avoid the need for folded inserts. IMPORTANT: After figures are reduced to fit the page size, the smallest letters should be at least 1 mm tall.

References to the literature: The first reference cited in the text should be numbered [1]; the second, [2], etc. References should be cited only by number: "The models for the interactions presented here and those previously presented [1, 2] are rather rigorous in specifications." References cited only in tables or figure legends should be sequentially numbered beginning with the number that follows the last reference number cited in the text before the table's or figure legend's first identification in the text. Additional reference citations in the text begin with the number following the last number cited in the table or figure legend. The bibliography should be arranged in the numerical order that references are cited and typed double-spaced throughout without indenting. Data for each reference should be arranged according to either of the following examples:

1. ASHTON GC, SIMPSON NE: C₅ types of serum cholinesterase in a Brazilian population. Am J Hum Genet 18:438-447, 1966
1. ASHTON GC, SIMPSON NE: Am J Hum Genet 18:438-447, 1966

Abbreviations for titles of medical periodicals should appear as published in Index Medicus. For complete information, see "New Citation Style," Am J Hum Genet 22:661, 1970, and 25:14, 1973.

Proofs and Reprints: If significant editorial changes are made, the copyedited manuscript will be sent to the author for approval prior to typesetting. Galley proofs will be sent for correction of typographical errors only; alterations other than correction of printer errors will be billed to the author. The corrected proof and the reprint order should be sent directly to the Editor.

Publication Charges: Authors will be charged a page charge of $60 per page in excess of 10 printed pages. In general, approximately 2 double-spaced typed manuscript pages equals 1 printed page. It is expected that the page charge be paid by all authors who have funds available for that purpose either from the author's institution or from the sponsor of research. Payment of the charge is not, however, a condition for publication.

Address all manuscripts and correspondence to the Editor, DR. DAVID E. COMINGS, Department of Medical Genetics, City of Hope Medical Center, 1500 E. Duarte Road, Duarte, California 91010.

The American Society of Human Genetics was organized in 1948. Its purpose is to encourage research in human genetics and to bring into closer association investigators in Canada, Mexico, and the United States who are interested in human genetic research and related problems. The present constitution was adopted in 1963. The Board of Directors consists of the President, President-Elect, Secretary, Treasurer, the two most recent past presidents, and nine other elected members.
